

ABOUT US

Have you been told that surgery is the only last option to treat your chronic pain? Are you for something that is an alternative to surgery? Well, QC Kinetix (Camp Hill) has covered you. QC Kinetix represents a novel path toward addressing joint pain and immobility. Our team uses a wide array of natural regenerative medicines to reduce pain and muscle soreness while increasing joint flexibility and mobility. With such a wide array of natural biological medical treatments available, we make sure to discuss all the therapeutic options with each of our patients. While not all patients may be candidates for all therapies, we will help guide you to make the most appropriate decisions for your particular condition. In Camp Hill, we treat everyone from weekend warriors and professional athletes to active ageing patients who want to stay active. If you are looking for regenerative medicine near me, then call your nearest location to speak to one of our representatives today!
